- In December 1948, the United Nations passed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which enshrines the most important values of Western Civilization such as freedom of religion, freedom from religion, freedom of conscience, equality of religions, and equality of men and women. It is a fact that not a single one of the 57 Muslim countries has accepted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Instead, all of the Muslim countries signed the Cairo Declaration of Human Rights in Islam which makes Islam superior to all other religions, and which explicitly makes sharia Law, the only source of human rights. What, exactly, is it about the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which sharia law finds unacceptable?
- The Koran says: The unbelievers are your inveterate enemy. (4:101). The Koran also says that unbelievers are the "vilest of all creatures" (98:6) and "the worst of animals" (8:55). What hope is there of coexistence when Mohammed teaches practicing Muslims to have this attitude toward non-Muslims?
- A fundamental principle of Christianity and Judaism is the "Golden Rule" which says "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Yet, the Koran says: "Mohammed is God's apostle. Those who follow him are ruthless to the unbelievers but merciful to one another." (48:29). With this attitude, how can orthodox followers of Mohammed possibly co-exist with non-Muslims?
